Baldwin Sees Canada Capable of Absorbing Many More Millions

"With Your Creameries, Your Wheat Selling, Your Wool Grading and Selling, and Your Fruit Grading and Selling," Says British Premier, "You Have Made Immense Progress on the Only Lines on Which Farmers Can Progress"

Calgary, August 13.—Rising from their chairs with a shout and round after round of cheers six thousand Canadians received Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin and Mrs. Baldwin at Victoria Park Monday afternoon with tumultuous enthusiasm.

The prime minister of Great Britain delivered a characteristic speech in which he paid a tribute to the pioneers of western Canada. He argued that the story of their achievements be preserved and that the younger generations be told of their hard work, sacrifice and daring. But the striking feature of his address was his homely comparison of the black soil of Canada with that of England.

The following is a verbatim report of Mr. Baldwin's remarks:

"Mr. Mayor and visiting premier: This is my maiden speech in the west, and as such I hope it will be received with that delicate consideration which is always accorded in the house of commons to maiden speeches. (Laughter.)

"I thank you for the wonderful reception which you have given me. I have come here to try and interpret the old country to you. I want to go back and interpret you to the old country, and I want to tell you with what peculiar pleasure I have met one of your most prominent citizens, the owner of the E.P. ranch. (Loud cheers.) I understand that you propose shortly paying a visit to England. I should like to assure him on behalf of the people of that country as warm a welcome there as he has received here. (Laughter and cheers.)

"It would be difficult for me to give you an impression. I have been here perhaps 48 hours, but I think perhaps what struck me most when I woke up this morning after leaving the forests and lakes and rivers of Ontario was to see that black earth to which the acting premier has alluded, which reminded me so much of that soil of our homeland in England between Cambridge and King's Lynn, and when I saw that soil I said to myself 'potatoes.' (Laughter.) Of course I do not pretend to know what you do with your soil yet, but in England I should have said potatoes. And I must say that I was struck with the potatoes I saw around every home, however small.

"They looked from the train, first class quality and I noticed how in places where they have a traction engine just outside and the fence not completed, but always the potatoes, and I am reminded of what an old farmer in Worcestershire said to me a few years ago, and I do not suppose your farmers are much different: 'If God almighty gave the whole earth to a farmer to farm, he would want a bit outside for a potato patch.'

"I speak with a good deal of humility of agriculture in the west because I struck me before having traveled long it would be, but I am quite sure we can beat you with sheep, at all events, although I saw very good country between here and the mountains, very much like the land in Berkshire and Sussex at home, and if the grass is as good for sheep as the grass there looks like it at home, that bit of country will be very well. But although we grow so little wheat we do get a pretty good yield per acre, and though perhaps our flocks and herds may not be among the largest in the world I am still British enough to think they are second to none in quality. (Cheese.) But I do not think anybody can travel as much as I have over for this short time without realizing how deeply rooted in the soil is the prosperity of the whole dominion.

"Fisheries, manufactures and lumber and minerals are all important and increasingly important, but the backbone of the country is and must be the man who is the backbone of the world, the man who sows and who reaps. 'I feel I want to take my hat off to the men and women who came out and settled this wonderful country. Most of them came out with the bare necessities in the way of equipment and food and probably borrowed at that, and they have made their homes for themselves. They have made its fame run around the world as one of the pioneer countries in agriculture. There has been a tremendous fight with nature and that fight will go on as long as the pioneer spirit remains in the breast of those descendants from the mother country and from the more adventurous races of Europe.

CELLULOSE TO BE MADE FROM CANADIAN POPLAR

A process is being perfected in Ottawa for making cellulose from poplar to be used in the artificial silk industry. When the large quantity of poplar available in Canada is considered, this assumes a great importance. Many authorities believe that the utilization of poplar in the manufacture of news print will eventually prove the salvation to this industry in Canada. However, only a very small quantity of it enters into paper-making at the present time.

New Roundhouse Now Under Way

The C.P.R. is again showing its faith in Wetaskiwin. Plans for a new roundhouse here to replace the one destroyed by fire last winter. The building will be on the site of the one destroyed and will be an accommodation for four engines at one time. Work is now in progress and the building will be completed as soon as possible. We understand the work is being done by local men insofar as it is possible. This action on the part of the company is greatly appreciated by the crews who have their homes in Wetaskiwin, as they were greatly inconvenienced by the loss of the roundhouse.

SUCCESSFUL PUPILS

The following pupils of Miss Marjorie H. Robinson were successful in the recent Toronto Conservatory Examination: Introductory Piano, Harry Wright, honors; Patsy Marshall, honors; Elementary Piano, Margaret Stevenson, pass. Primary Piano, Isabelle George, pass.

Obituary

TRUMAN R. SHAW

A gloom was cast over the community on Friday last when it was learned that Truman R. Shaw, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shaw, had passed away at the Wetaskiwin hospital, after only a few days' illness with pneumonia and complications. Had he lived until September 23, he would have been twenty years of age. He was born in Ontario, and spent several years in Manitoba before coming to the Wetaskiwin district seven years ago with his parents. Am a student at get an education, he was a student at the Wetaskiwin high school and was popular with the student body.

The funeral, which took place Sunday afternoon from the First United Church, was very largely attended, and the floral tributes were especially numerous and beautiful. The service was conducted by Rev. A. L. Elliott. The pallbearers were Leslie Shantz, Art Peterson, Ed. Hinkley, Larry Hildik, Jas. Watson and Arvin Nelson. The interment was in the Wetaskiwin cemetery.

JAMES N. FRANKLIN

The funeral of the late Jas. N. Franklin took place on Friday afternoon last from the First United Church and was largely attended by friends who came from far and near. The service, which was quite impressive, was conducted by Rev. A. L. Elliott. The interment took place in the Nashville cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. R. W. Nyman, C. O. Quinn, Ward L. Bailey, Joe George, Ernest Belmer and M. O. Larson.

Had the deceased lived two days longer he would have reached the allotted span of three score years and ten. The funeral took place on the seventieth anniversary of his birthday. He was born in Inverness, Quebec, and resided in that district until the year 1892, when he came to the farm he owned and homesteaded on the farm he owned at the time of his death. He was one of the first settlers in the district, and was well known, as he took an active interest in the development of the country, and did his share by boosting for everything which would be for the betterment of Central Alberta. He was especially interested in education and was either trustee or secretary-treasurer of the Haultain school district from the time of its organization.

He was an ardent Liberal in politics. He leaves to mourn his loss a widow, and three children, namely, Mrs. Ward L. Bailey, Hulda and George, all of the Haultain district.

In the spring he was a sufferer from several ailments, and was brought to the Wetaskiwin hospital for treatment but despite the best medical attention and nursing, the ravages of the trouble could not be successfully combated and a few weeks ago he was moved to the Royal Alexandra hospital, Edmonton, where he passed away on August 10th.

An Essex farmer complained that the pheasants were eating his corn. The game department had two birds killed to see if this was true, and they found in the birds' crop 200 corn worms, but no corn. The farmer was mistaken.

One of Best Yields Ever in Province

Is Outlook in Estimation of Provincial Department of Agriculture—Frost Damage Negligible

SEVENTH MONTHLY CROP REPORT

Issued by Department of Agriculture, Government of Alberta, Edmonton, August 13, 1927.

The present season has been almost ideal for the growth of crops, the weather during the past two weeks being especially suited to the filling and ripening period, according to reports reaching the Department of Agriculture. Early varieties of wheat on lighter land are ripening rapidly and a start has been made with the harvesting of this grain in a number of districts in the province, while in some cases barley has also been cut, and with a continuation of the present favorable weather harvest promises to be fairly general in ten days to two weeks. Some frost damage has been reported, but this is negligible and there is every indication that one of the greatest crops in the history of Alberta is well on its way to maturity.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics in a report issued during the past week showed a marked increase in the estimated acreage under the five principal grain crops in Alberta this season as compared with 1926, and with the decidedly higher yield which is promised, the total production of grain in the province for 1927 undoubtedly will show an increase of several million bushels over last year's mark.

In the south and southeastern parts of the province a start has been made with the cutting of fall wheat, and some excellent yields are reported, the acreage in this crop being considerably larger than has been the case for the past several years. Harvesting of rye has been practically completed and the yield of this grain has started in a number of districts. The weather in this part of the province has been dry, but very little damage from hot winds is reported and the reserve of moisture in the soil and the straw is sufficient to enable the grain to fill satisfactorily.

In the central and northern sections of the province all grains are ripening rapidly and uniformly and harvesters have started in earnest, and fields in a number of districts. A heavy crop of hay is being put up and pastures generally show little effect of the recent dry weather. Livestock throughout the province is in splendid condition and grass-finished beef is promised for market at an earlier date than usual.

Harvesting has started in a number of localities in the Peace River and Grande Prairie districts. A highly satisfactory yield and the considerable acreage of newly cropped land promise a marked increase in the output of grain from this part of the province for the present season.

Goebel Wins Pacific Race

Wheeler Field, Honolulu, Aug. 18.—

Making a perfect landing at Wheeler Field, United States army aviation field, 25 miles from Honolulu, the monoplane Woodard, piloted by Art Goebel, Hollywood, stunt flier, landed here at 12:23 p.m. Wednesday (Honolulu time) to win first prize, $25,000, in the Dole air derby from Oakland, Cal.

Less than two hours later Martin Jensen, only Honolulu entrant, piloting the monoplane Aloha, descended amid the thousands of spectators at the field, winner of the $10,000 offered for second prize.

Badly Burned in a Gasoline Explosion

A very serious accident happened near Dittum Lake on Wednesday morning of this week, when Mrs. Shelt was badly burned by the explosion of a can of gasoline. Her clothes were ignited and she was badly burned on the face, as well as the body. She was rushed to the Wetaskiwin hospital, where she is now receiving the best attention. It is rumored that she is in a serious condition.

David Wilson received a telegram Wednesday advising his brother Charles was drowned at Vancouver on Tuesday. He left on the midnight train to attend the funeral.

BIG ENGLISH COMPANY TO OPERATE IN ALBERTA

It is reported that a deal is pending between British Petroleum, Limited, the pioneer drillers in the Wainwright field, Alberta, and the Anglo-Persian Oil company, which, it is expected, will result in a Canadian subsidiary of the big European concern being organized. It is proposed to begin active operations in Alberta in the near future. The Anglo-Persian company at present is holding options on leases covering 30,000 acres in the Wainwright field.

Fifty-three Years of Married Life

The following is taken from the St. Mary's Journal-Argus and refers to the parents of Mrs. E. B. Switzer, of the Cherry Grove district:

"Well known among the older residents are Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Martin, now of Richmond Hill, who came up with their son, Edmond and his wife, of Toronto, to attend the reunion, Mr. Martin is still actively engaged in the building business at Richmond Hill. Three years ago Mr. and Mrs. Martin celebrated their golden wedding and during their fifty-three years of wedded life there has been no break in the family circle. Their eight children are living in various parts of Canada, Ida (Mrs. Humphreys) resides at Burlington; Carrie (Mrs. Switzer) at Wetaskiwin, Alta.; Bess (Mrs. Swanson) at Banff; Ernest, at Blackie, Alta.; Mattie (Mrs. Johnson) in New Jersey; Lottie and Winifred at home. The two last mentioned daughters are at present visiting in the West."

BRIDE-TO-BE RECEIVES BEAUTIFUL GIFTS

A very pleasant time was spent on Monday evening last, when a large number of friends and acquaintances gathered at Bear's Hotel in honor of Miss Annie Schell and Mr. Edwin Wright. Several enjoyable hours were spent in dancing. Shortly after supper, Mr. William Hodson made a speech wishing the young couple every manner of success and happiness, and expressing the regret that the bride and groom were so far from their home community. To this Mr. Wright made a very suitable reply. The popular bride-to-be was the recipient of many beautiful gifts. The merry group dispersed at about half-past one.

She examined twenty-seven children of pre-school age, and remarked on the large number of healthy babies brought to the clinic recently. About thirty-five children and a number of adults were present. A variety of games were played and a sumptuous luncheon was served. Those in charge of this pleasant affair wish to express their appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Lyle for their hospitality and assistance on this occasion.

CANADA IS SEVENTH GREATEST NATION IN WORLD

The population of Canada is now about one hundred and twenty of the estimated total population of the world. Yet this small proportion of present population produces 38 per cent of the world's 22 per cent of the world's wheat, 22 per cent of the world's pork, 20 per cent of its lumber, 29 per cent of its cured fish, 18 per cent of its oats, 15 per cent of its potatoes, 11 1/2 per cent of its wheat, and 11 per cent of its barley. Canada today ranks seventh among the great nations of the world in regard to wealth. Between 1870, three years after Confederation, and today, Canada's national wealth has increased sevenfold.

Farmers of Camrose District Want Gravel Road to Wetaskiwin

At Provincial Constituency Political Association Convention of U.F.A. and U.F.W.A. Necessity Urged Upon Local Member of Legislature—Forty Locals Represented at Federal Constituency Convention—Lucas Criticizes Ottawa Government

Camrose, Alta., Aug. 12.—

More than forty locals were represented at the Camrose federal constituency U. F. A. and U. F. W. A. political convention, held in Camrose on Tuesday. This was the first business convention of the association held since the redistribution whereby the Camrose constituency was created to include in part the older riding designated as "Victoria." A new constitution was drafted to replace that of the old Victoria organization. The new district was subdivided into sections, for each of which a representative was appointed to the board.

W. T. Lucas, M. P., who represents the constituency in the federal house, was present to meet his constituents. He gave a very comprehensive review of the work of the last session of the dominion parliament, dealing minutely with the attitude of the house towards many of the important measures which came up, such as the federal farm loan scheme, old age pensions, amendments to the Canada Grain act, soldiers' land revaluation, pensions act, livestock act, immigration policies, natural resources, and many other matters. He also dealt with the reorganization of the U. F. A. group and their relationship with the other independent groups in the house.

Mr. Lucas stated that he was somewhat disappointed in the policy of the government in regard to many matters of vital importance to the people of Alberta. The government showed a marked difference since 1926, when it was apparently disposed to be more friendly to the west. He expressed the hope that the present government would prove in the future that its statesmanship was of a higher order than to discriminate against any section of the dominion, because they refused to be controlled, and also because they saw fit to elect their representatives along more democratic lines than that practiced by their own party.

At the conclusion of his address a unanimous vote of confidence was tendered to Mr. Lucas by the convention. Hon. V. W. Smith, minister of railways and telephones in the Alberta government, and A. G. Andrews, M. L. A. for Sedgewick, also addressed the meeting.

The officers elected to carry on the work of the association for the coming year were: President, Hector McKenzie, Sedgewick; first vice president, Mrs. Leona Harritt, Mirror; second vice president, Mrs. Ed. Kehoe, Camrose; directors, AV. J. Brady, Edberg; A. Rhyason, Dawfl; J. Jamieson, Hessler; F. Peterson, Forestburg; P. Grandage, Loughheed; R. Price, Stettler.

A representative meeting of delegates attended the U. F. A. and U. F. W. A. Provincial Constituency Political Association Convention held on Monday, August 8, Hon. V. W. Smith took this opportunity of meeting with his constituents and also several delegations were present to confer with him with regard to district affairs such as bridges, roads and drainage.

He also addressed the convention and gave an account of the work of the government, dealing particularly with the affairs under his jurisdiction, such as irrigation, railways and telephones. He told his audience that there was a marked improvement in the financial condition of all his departments and that with regard to the telephone Alberta had equal if not better organization and service than any other system on the continent and that from now on it would be self-supporting.

The following officers and board were elected for the ensuing year:

G. Roese, president; Mrs. Ed. Kehoe, vice-president; A. Luger, 2nd vice president; Board, Sherman Fox, Kelsey; F. Olson, New Norway; J. J. Brady, Edberg; W. Gillespie, Deyland; A. Rhyason, Heather Brae; L. Peterson, Round Hill; P. C. Hansen, Hawfl; J. Jamieson, Hastings Coulee.

At this meeting the urgent necessity of graveling the highway between Camrose and Wetaskiwin was strongly emphasized and brought to the attention of the member for the riding—Canadian.

KIDDIES' PICNIC WELL PATRONIZED

The annual Kiddies' Picnic, under the auspices of the Wetaskiwin Kiwanis Club, was held on Wednesday of this week, when about two hundred children in grades two to five were taken to Ma-Me-o Beach in autos, and given a very enjoyable outing. This was the fourth picnic provided by the Kiwanis Club.

Alberta Exhibit Is Impressive

Live birds contributed by some 62 breeders in Alberta at the world's poultry congress which ended a few days ago at Ottawa, were very favorably commented upon by delegates, according to Poultry Commissioner J. J. Hare, who has returned to Edmonton from the big congress. The number of questions asked showed that foreigners are quite interested in Alberta's poultry.

Mr. Hare is very enthusiastic regarding the success of the congress and says that some foreign delegates were so impressed with the manner in which Canada staged the function that they are wondering just what they will do when their own turn comes.

Alberta's exhibits of both live birds and general products were very attractive, declares the poultry commissioner. The publicity department sent down three cabinets containing grains and grasses and animals, a vast amount of game birds and moving pictures, and all compared favorably with other province's exhibits.

Big Reception to Princes in Edmonton

Edmonton, Alta., Aug. 15.—Under the clouded sky of a non-typical Alberta day, and to the clamorous cheers of one of the biggest crowds ever assembled in Edmonton, H.R.H. the Prince of Wales and his brother Prince George were welcomed to Alberta's capital in royal Western fashion Saturday.

Although it had been announced that the special cars bearing the Royal visitors would not arrive here until noon, the train came in overnight and was parked in the C.P.R. yards near the depot.

On the platform to receive the Royal visitors were all the members of the Provincial Government with the exception of Premier J. E. Brownlee, who is away on holiday in England and Hon. George Heald, also on holiday. Lieut. Gov. Edberg and his staff and Mayor Bury and members of the City Council were also among the welcoming committee when punctually at 10 o'clock the two princes and their entourage stepped from the Royal train to the platform.

As the Royal procession swung around the east end of the Parliament buildings the roar of welcome was deafening but it was as nothing to the unrelenting cheering which broke out afresh as the Prince of Wales and his brother ascended the platform. For several minutes the cheers re-echoed and reverberated against the stone walls of the building, rolling out in crash after crash of enthusiastic hurrahs, to which both Princes made smiling response by cheery hand waves. That they were pleased with the spontaneity of their reception was evident from the smiles which flitted across their faces, already bronzed when the train came in overnight and their stay on the E.P. ranch at Pekisko.

When the addresses of welcome were being made by Hon. R. G. Reid for the Province, and Mayor A. U. G. Bury for the city, the same enthusiasm was evident and when the Prince on Wales made reply there was another outbreak from the crowd, which continued to cheer as he passed down the line of be-ribboned and be-meadled veterans drawn up for inspection.

Following the presentation of the addresses of welcome and the inspection, the Royal party entered the building where another huge crowd greeted them. Packed in the big rotunda, milling around in the galleries and crammed in every possible van-

Prices Drop in School Books

Down comes the high cost of living again! Prices are to be reduced on 19 public school textbooks that Alberta parents will have to be paying presently, and a new scale of uniform selling prices, embodying these reductions, will be supplied to all dealers in the province. Other books on the list will remain as before. But that cut on 19 is likely to be received with feelings only second to those caused by a good crop.

It seems that the government made some money on its school book business last year, and it didn't mean to do that at all. The scheme was started for the purpose of giving service to the public, says Hon. Perren Baker, minister of education, and not as a profit-maker, nor for the sake of the revenue it might produce. Last year being the first and everybody new at the job, the overhead cost of handling the books was overestimated, and so it came about that there was a surplus at the end of the season.

Dominion to Help in Purchase Beef Cattle

Livestock Branch of Ottawa Government Again Puts Into Operation for Three Months Feeder Purchase Policy

In order to encourage the winter feeding of cattle and of lambs in western Canada and, incidentally, to insure the success of the feeder shows which will be held at Moose Jaw and Calgary this fall, the Honorable Mr. Matherwell has authorized the Dominion livestock branch to put into operation for a period of three months a feeder purchase policy on similar lines to the assistance which was given during the past three falls.

Under this policy, the live stock branch will pay reasonable travelling expenses of a farmer residing in western Canada or of the authorized agent of farmers residing in western Canada who purchase one or more carloads of feeder or stocker cattle, or of feeder or lambs, under the following conditions:

- (1) The applicant must purchase at his nearest stockyards, to be returned to his own farm or to the farms of those for whom he has acted as agent, one or more carloads of stocker and feeder cattle or of lambs.
- (2) A carload shipment must include not less than twenty head of cattle or forty of sheep. In a mixed shipment two sheep will be accepted for one head of cattle.

CATTLE MEN OF UNITED STATES RESIST EMBARGO

That cattlemen in the western United States may shortly start an agitation for the lessening of the United States duty against Canadian cattle and thus work toward the same end as the message of Norman S. Poole, general livestock agent of the Soo Railway and president of the Trevor, Wisconsin, stockyards, gave to The Alberta on his arrival in Calgary Sunday evening from Montana with the party of Montana cattlemen on route to the convention of the annual convention of the Sunshine Trail or Montana-Alberta Automobile Association.

"The cattle situation in the western United States is very much stronger than it has been for years," Mr. Poole said. "The demand for feeders is very much greater than usual. Montana has far fewer cattle, and these will be mostly fit for slaughtering and not for feeding. The western States, including Iowa and adjoining states, where there is a good crop, want feeding cattle. The situation was never more ripe for trying to get the tariff reduced on feeding cattle."

He said he thought the American feeders would take some concerted action themselves, and that one advantage the Canadian cattle have over feeders brought in from the southern States and Mexico is that they are already acclimatized. In addition, they can be finished more cheaply in the United States than in Canada, while they can be grown more cheaply in Canada—Alberta.

OATS SOWN THEMSELVES AT BAWLF

Itself, August 12.—The binder is humming today in a large field of fully ripened oats belonging to Archie Brown of the Likeness district, some 15 miles north of Bawlf. The same field produced a heavy crop of oats last year, which went down with the snow of the early fall. After the snow melted, the oats were cut with the binder operating in one direction. The oats, however, had shelled freely, and with the coming of spring the new crop appeared. Mr. Brown left early enough and nature has rewarded him for his trust, giving him a crop of oats without any effort on his part, which will yield 40 and 50 bushels per acre.

THE MAN JEAN WANTED

(By Sandy Fraser)

"Jean," says I to the wife the night, "I've been readin' some stuff in the papers lately, written by a near-home. I'm thinkin', in which he tried to tell us what quillion a man should look for in the girl he intends to marry. The criterion he gives is that a woman of all, but some sort of an archangel who has happened to come down to this earth by mistake, and that nobody ever saw but himself. She has all the perfections and none of the faults that the ordinary run o' human folk has been endowed with, and the man who has her is contented by her. I wonder how he comes to have found the 'perfect wife' that some men tell us belonged to a section of the human race that has become extinct; while others say that she has never yet been developed, and lives only in the imagination of poets and dreamers."

"But not, just for the fun o' the thing, Jean," says I, "I'd like you to tell me, by way of a change, what are the qualities and characteristics that a woman wants to find in the man she hopes will, some day, ask her to marry his. I ken that men are pretty nearly as far from perfection as the women, but the feminine mind is full of fancies and all sorts o' impossible notions, and I'd just like to see what kind of a superman they think their future husband will be. To be sure, personally, what like a man would I have me be, gin ye were makin' me over to suit yerself?"

"Well, Sandy, returned Jean, as she settled herself down in the rocking chair and soothed the tickle she was smittin', "that's a pretty large order, and I think I can let me satisfy myself."

TWO LEADERS

The Right Hon. Stanley Baldwin, the British Premier, is seen in the cab of the new Canadian National Locomotive, number 6120, the largest and most powerful railway engine in the British Empire. This was the first locomotive to lead a train into the new Union Station at Toronto, and the train was that which carried the Prince of Wales, Prince George and Premier and Mrs. Baldwin. When he was visiting Kingston, Ontario, Mr. Baldwin heard that this (the cab of the steel rails was an all-Canadian product, designed by Canadian National Railway's engineers and built at the Kingston shops. Although busily engaged in preparing his speeches, the Premier halted his work to inspect the great engine, eventually climbing into the cab with the engineer. He showed the keenest interest in the manner in which the locomotive was handled when travelling at high speed and worked the various levers controlling the engine. "It is a wonderful piece of machinery and should be a source of pride to the Canadian designers and builders," said he, on leaving. No. 6120 is one of the forty locomotives of similar type that are being turned out this season for the fast passenger and freight service of the National system. When in regular service they will run 510 miles, without change—the longest locomotive runs in the Dominion.

Oscar Wilde's Best Play Is to Be Presented Here

"Lady Windermere's Fan" to Be the Stage Attraction at The Angus Theatre on Monday, August 29—Edmonton
Players in Aid of Annapolis Association

"Lady Windermere's Fan," the play which is being sponsored by the Annapolis Association and which will be presented by Edmonton artists on the stage in the Angus Theatre here on Monday, August 29, is one of Oscar Wilde's most brilliant efforts. The lines are clever and the action dramatic. The plot, briefly, is as follows: Lady Windermere discovers that her husband is giving large sums of money to a Mrs. Erlynne, who is the most talked of mysterious woman in London, and accuses Lord Windermere of infidelity. He replies by asking her to invite Mrs. Erlynne to her birthday ball. The request is refused, so the husband extends the invitation himself, only to have his wife threaten to strike the woman across the face with her fan publicly. Lord Windermere is beside himself, for he alone of all London knows that Mrs. Erlynne is Lady Windermere's mother, who in her youth had left her husband and her child for a lover, but who had repented and wanted to get back. Mrs. Erlynne finally saves Lady Windermere from the consequences of an act performed in a fit of jealousy's folly.

The play is full of tense interest for Lady Windermere never discovers who Mrs. Erlynne really is; Lord Windermere, however, discovers the act which his wife performed in her desperation, and London knows nothing of it.

The Edmonton Branch of the Annapolis Association covers all territory and covers north of Red Deer. This year the Association is trying to establish a benefit fund to take care of the needy dependents of the deceased members of the Association.

Inside the procession were Mr. and Mrs. George and his brother-in-law, the day which had been erected at the foot of the marble staircase and in a few brief but well chosen words Prince George invited the two tablets to the memory of the Civil Servants of Alberta who had made the supreme sacrifice in the World War. BALDWIN SEES

how the city man says that the farmer's life is an enviable life; he does not know what the hourly worries of the professional and business man are. It is quite true that in a little bit of the picture and there is another view of a picture which you enjoy before we come to look at the other side. I always think the unique pleasure of the settler must be the feeling that you are plowing where no man has ever plowed before—the taming of nature. The breaking in of the wilderness; the watching of the growth of the crops; the watching of a virgin land adding year by year to the cultured domain and the watching year by year of the lands becoming bridged, the trail becoming a road, the advent of the rail road, the advent of the telephone and the little postoffice becoming a township. Such new growth up with the country. This last generation has been doing it. Their instability has become stability. It has become security. It has become independence and such men see the seasons pass, seed time and harvest, and the sun and the moon and the stars and the northern lights. But against all that, what the city man seldom realizes is what daily conflict with nature is held, a conflict from which he, by his environment, has been removed forcibly for from two to three generations; the loneliness, the long hours, the monotony of a great deal of the work; the heart breaking setbacks when crops are ruined and when stock dies. "At times the loneliness for the women, the meagre returns that come in hard years from the capital and the infinity of labor and thought which has been expended on the land. It is a picture of human life and the west should produce poets to describe it, and when I speak of the settlers one thing struck me coming through those provinces: it is such a short time since the pioneers came and that the country was opened up. While there is yet time, may the story of those generations live that the tradition of those great spirits may be handed down to the generations to come, for these things so soon pass and are so soon forgotten. "There never can be a time again like the last half century has been in the opening up of the west. Treasure the memory of the work and the men lead to every human being. I have no doubt myself that even, though men have for a generation or two lost that close touch with the soil, they can regain it with joy to themselves and with health to their souls. After the war in Great Britain, we learned that from the success that attended the settlement on the land of ex-soldiers, many of them who had had no experience in farming at all, and they are doing well in our country, and we have seen many out here and they are doing well here, and I am told that one of your best farmers in one of the ex-soldiers' settlements is a man who was, before the war, an army cook. These are the people to encourage.

"They are precisely of the same stock as the people of the maritime provinces and the people of Ontario, and the stock from which most of your youngsters have sprung. The stock is as good as it ever was, and if some of the hands at home may be a little bit rusty, I have no doubt that could quickly be remedied.

Canada's Lead

"You must forgive me for the sketchy nature of these observations. Canada has given us a very good lead in one or two directions. Directions towards making a life that must be in places for some time to come, a lonely life; but a far more tolerable one to that which must have been for those who opened up the country. You have developed the telephone far better than we have in our rural districts, and you have, as the acting premier mentioned in his address to me, gone much further and to your own profit in co-operation than we have in England.

With your creameries, your wheat selling, your wool grading and selling, and fruit grading and selling you have made immense progress on the only lines in which farmers can progress, and I am making myself unpopular at home by telling them to use self-help instead of waiting for some one else to look after them.

"There is one activity of yours to which we owe a great deal in Great Britain. I mean the women's rural institutes. They originated in Ontario, and I am told they have done a great work in Alberta. Now we have paid you the compliment of copying you. "I have even been told that in the west these women's institutes pave the way for the wife of the new settler, and that when the weary traveler arrives, probably feeling very strange and not a little homesick at first, she finds the kettle clanging on the hob that has been put there under the auspices of the women's institutes. It is

Track and field athletics have been badly neglected in Wetaskiwin. They are an essential part of the youth life of any community. They are a builder of body and a moulder of character, and this fact is realized to the fullest extent by the "Wetaskiwin Sports Association, which has undertaken to devote considerable time and energy, with accompanying expense, in promoting this phase of the community work. The success of this undertaking depends upon the co-operation of the fathers, mothers, sons and daughters. On Labor Day a Confederation Jubilee athletic meet will be staged at the Exhibition grounds, to which all competitors will be admitted free. There will be running and jumping events for boys and girls under the age of eighteen years, for which prizes will be given, and in addition, the boy and girl winning the most points will be presented each with a silver cup. It is a duty of parent and child to co-operate with the Sports Association in its laudable undertaking.

Parents, encourage your sons and daughters of the teen age to participate in these Jubilee cham-plionships. Upon entry being made with H. E. Chalmers or H. R. French before Sept. 1st, free admission tickets will be given. On Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings of next week and every evening the week preceding the sports, instructors will be at the Exhibition grounds to give their services to those who intend to compete, when the finer points of the various competitions will be put into practice. Gossip of the Motor World

THE AUTOMOBILE AND THE COUNTRY STORE

The automobile has been added to the mail order house, the home-to-house carrier and the chain store, being responsible for one of the most interesting tendencies in the variety of which the small town merchant and the country general storekeeper are caught up.

"Roadside business," the Department of Domestic Distribution of the United States has had to change its opinion. "This happens all the time," it says in response to an inquiry, "never has ceased from the beginning of distribution and so far as we anticipate, never will cease; but the fact is unfortunate that the post-merchant, the inefficient merchant—not only survive but prosper under conditions which injure or destroy the business of those who are less able to opportunity."

"But there are compensating factors. An immense business, the magnitude of which is unknown, has developed in the roadside sale of fruit, poultry and fresh vegetables, principally bought by city people; and this should be taken in some statement of the city purchases made by the rural population. Again it is apparently an unrecognized fact that throughout the driving season enormous purchases of hot weather merchandise are made by automobilists, and the money left with country retailers and supply stations must amount to an enormous sum annually."

TOURIST TRAFFIC IN CANADA

Tourist traffic in Canada has in recent years assumed such proportions that it now forms one of the Dominion's most important and lucrative industries. The expenditures of vacation and sight seeing visitors are a considerable factor in keeping Canada's balance of trade on the right side and constitute what the economists call an "invisible export," to the huge profit of the Dominion and its citizens. The development and encouragement of tourist traffic is one of the interests which come within the purview of the Canadian Good Roads Association, and the subject will receive its share of attention at the fourteenth annual convention, which is to be held at the Clifton hotel, in Niagara Falls, Ont., on September 27, 28 and 29. Last year, at the Edmonton convention, some interesting statistics of the sums spent in Canada by tourists were given in a paper by J. M. Wardle, B.Sc., M.E.C.E., chief engineer of the Canadian National Parks, with headquarters at Banff, Alberta. Mr. Wardle also made some timely comments on the subject of securing adequate publicity for Canada's attractions for tourists. The following extracts from his paper should interest a wide public:

"Our great annual increases in tourist revenue are largely due to increasing motor traffic. The Dominion commissioner of highways has given to the public an estimate of the expenditures of American motorists in Canada for 1925, based on the touring permits issued at the Canadian ports of entry. This gives a total outlay in motorist permits of $188,555,496. While it is difficult to estimate accurately the outlay of Canadian motorists while touring in Canada, various sources place it at approximately $160,000,000. Motorist traffic is accordingly responsible for a great part of our total tourist revenue."

"With good roads in Canada resulting in motorists spending over $345,000,000 in a single year, neither the federal nor the provincial governments need hesitate in providing further funds for highway construction and maintenance. The amount of money spent by American motorists alone in Canada in 1925, $188,555,496, is greater than the total expenditure of all Canada on roads during the last four years; it is nine times greater than to sum provided by the federal government under the Canada Highway Act; and ten times greater than the total of all provincial revenues from motor vehicle registration and gasoline taxes in 1925."

"In the Canadian National Parks we have a system of motor car registration that affords very close observation of the schedules of visiting motorists. Also, as most rail entries during the summer months are for touring purposes, we have an opportunity of getting fairly accurate figures on railway traffic to the parks. In 1925, 333,460 persons visited our national parks, and the 1926 season had practically reached this figure at the end of August. Of the total of 333,460 visitors for 1925, three national parks in Alberta, viz., Rocky Mountains or Banff Park, Jasper and Waterton Lakes, drew 118,000. Of these 87,000 came by rail and 31,000 by motor, 83,000 being Canadians.

"Remember that a tourist by rail spends about 2 1/2 times as much as a tourist by motor, and allowing an expenditure of $100 for each foreign visitor by motor and each Canadian visitor by rail, we have a total tourist expenditure of $22,800,000; that is, three national parks in Alberta put into circulation nearly $24,000,000 in 1925. This is 2 1/2 times greater than the total government expenditure on all our national parks since their inception.

"The natural advantages of Canada make her an ideal subject for tourist advertising. With scenery unequalled in variety and charm; with a wide range of interesting occupations to be observed; with a choice of climate in nearly every province, and with unlimited recreational facilities, she offers a wealth of advertising material. Various channels of publicity are available for an expenditure that would be small compared to the results. Newspaper and magazine advertising, distribution of literature from Canadian immigration offices in the United States; magazine articles, road maps, movie films, lectures, radio broadcasts are all mediums of publicity that could be utilized to advantage. All that is needed is the agency to handle the mass of material available and to distribute it, after careful selection, through the various advertising channels. It has been suggested that this agency be provided by the establishment of a central or Dominion tourist bureau. The idea seems an excellent one and has many features to recommend it. While the

Cairn Marks Site of Old Forts

Commemorating the advent of civilization into this part of the Canadian West, a handsome cairn was unveiled near Fort Saskatchewan on Monday with an impressive ceremony by Lieutenant Governor Eglar. The inscription on the historic landmark is as follows:

Fort Augustus
Fort Edmonton

On the river at below stood Fort Augustus, established by the North West Company in 1794; Fort Edmonton, established by the Hudson's Bay Company in 1795.

Rivals in trade, allies in danger, these companies carried the flag and commerce of Britain by way of the great rivers from the shores of the Atlantic Ocean and Hudson Bay to the Pacific and Arctic Oceans. These posts were abandoned in 1907.

Honey Crop Heavy in South

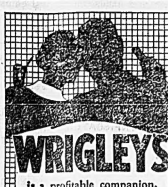

Alberta's honey crop this season promises to be in the neighborhood of 300 tons, according to reports from the southern part of the province where this industry is steadily gaining in importance. Apiaries at Cardale have shipped their first carload of honey to Calgary and further shipments will be made to Edmonton. A new extracting plant, the largest in Canada, has been installed at the Cardale headquarters at Cardale and is operating steadily. Warm weather and a wealth of sweet clover and alfalfa bloom are combining to give the bee men the best harvest on record and Alberta is expected for the first time to supply its honey needs from within the province.

Record Production from Royalty Well

Royalty No. 4 well in the Turner Valley field produces more naptha or natural gasoline than all the other 2,000 producing wells in Canada, according to a statement issued in a report on natural gas and petroleum wells prepared by John McElroy, director of the division of mineral resources, department of mines, Ottawa. With the bringing in of this well in 1921, states this report, Alberta assumed first place among the provinces of the Dominion in the production of oil. Royalty No. 4 yielding an average of 45 barrels per day of high gravity oil in 1925 and more than 600 barrels per day in 1926. Results today, the report continues, indicate that Turner Valley is one of the world's largest gas fields.

Will Establish Commercial Fish Hatchery

Construction of the first commercial fish hatchery in Alberta will be started in September, announces R. T. Roth, Dominion fisheries inspector. This will be located at the mouth of Canyon Creek, two miles west of Wildcat on the K.D. and R.C. railway, on the south shore of Lesser Slave Lake. It is estimated that 100,000,000 whitefish will be propagated at the hatchery every year to maintain an undiminished supply of fish for the many companies operating in the lake. Visiting Poultrymen to See Alberta Delegates to the World's Poultry Congress, to the number of 120 will spend two days in Alberta in the course of a trans-Canada tour. After stopping at Wainwright, the party will spend August 17 at Edmonton, later going on to Jasper, and on their return from the Coast will visit at Various practices could carry on individual advertising to advantage, they could not obtain the same degree of uniformity and of proper adjustment of advertising values as could a central or national bureau. The latter would also have a greater chance of securing the co-operation of all government departments and public organizations interested in the promotion of tourist traffic. The formation of such a bureau, particularly with the co-operation of provincial and federal governments should not be difficult. It would be amply justified, and would be an important step in affording Canada full realization of one of her greatest assets—"Good Roads Bulletin."

HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

Druses and a severe shaking up are all that four students of the Canada Junior College have to show after coming through the complete wreck of an automobile when it was struck by a speeding freight train at Lacombe.

The injured lads, Dan Morris, Charles Rippington, James Burgess and John Austin, were returning from a haying expedition in the college car, and failed to see the approaching train until they were on the grade crossing. Striking the car broadside on, the train hurled it 50 feet along the right of way, smashing it thoroughly. The train stopped and brought the four to hospital, where they are resting.

MANY DELEGATES ATTEND

Fifty-one delegates, representing points from Slave Lake in the north to Great Falls, Helena and other Montana cities in the south, assembled at Edmonton for the annual convention of the Sunshine Trail Association.

Welcoming Premier R. C. Reid welcomed the delegates on behalf of the Province, and assured them the Alberta Government was fully alive to the value of good roads and was willing to do everything in its power for the cause. Mayor Threlkeld extended the welcome of the city to the visitors.

instance of Canadian-made machinery being shipped out of Canada into the States is manufactured in Canada to American order—that is of nine large wood pulp grinders, on an output of 100 tons of pulp a day, now ready at the plant of the Port Arthur Shipbuilding Co. for consignment to the St. Regis Co., Watertown, New York.

Excellent progress is being made with the branch-line programme projected by the Canadian Pacific Railway for the three Prairie Provinces this season, according to D. C. Coleman, vice-president in charge of western lines. The work of construction, he said, is progressing rapidly and every effort is being made to have the new lines in operation by the time the fall crop movement begins. Keeping pace with the rising tide of land settlement the company expects to open the line from Lloydminster to Clan Donald on July 15. This branch is of particular interest as it serves the colony of Icelandic located in the Clan Donald district. These settlers are doing remarkably well and have forty per cent. of their land broken.

Many drivers seem to have trouble trying to let in the clutch gently. A simple, yet effective, way of engaging the clutch is to rest the heel of the foot on the floor of the car, pressing out the clutch by a lever-like motion of the ball of the foot. With the foot in this position and the ball of the foot pressed down, the driver will find it rather difficult to let the clutch in quickly. He finds that it is necessary to exert a bit of effort to draw the ball of the foot back, and in doing so he cannot help but engage the clutch by gentle degrees.

Why Gum-Dipped Mileage Costs Less "Per Mile"

The demand from car owners for Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires has given Firestone Dealers a large increase in volume that enables them to sell these tires to you at the lowest prices in the history of the industry.

The Firestone Balloon Tread, scientifically designed three years ago, and unchanged today has the wear resisting qualities that give thousands of extra miles.

This tread must be placed on a carcass that has the qualifications to withstand terrific flexing. The Firestone carcass is made of cords dipped in rubber solution which not only saturates and insulates every fibre of every cord, but unifies sidewalls with carcass, eliminating any possibility of separation under the extreme flexing of low-pressure.

The Firestone Dealer in your locality will gladly explain the Gum-Dipping process, the scientifically designed tire tread, and other advantages that only Gum-Dipped tires can give. See him today.

Mothers Should Use

When The Babies Are Cutting Teeth

During the baby's teething time, in the mouth, the gums become inflamed, swollen, and the baby suffers from loss of appetite, diarrhoea, colic, cramps and other bowel complaints manifest themselves; the gums become swollen, cankers form in the mouth, and in many cases the child wastes to a shadow, and very often the termination is fatal.

This is the time when the mother should use "Dr. Fowler's," and, perhaps, save the baby's life.

WE BUILD THE LADDER BY WHICH WE RISE FROM LOWLY EARTH TO VAULTED SKIES

One of the most important lessons of life to learn, is that success comes step by step and must continually be won. There are those who look upon the supposed fortunate one who have achieved places of influence and distinction, as though they had in some way gained a citadel in which they could stand secure against every attack.

In truth, all they have done is to gain another level of responsibility in which they must make good. Every day is one of test. Every day pays its toll in which has been gained. The greater the apparent achievement the more serious is the risk of loss. The farther you have climbed, the more disastrous the fall.

As has been well said, it is not worth while to talk of the end of a period, for you are always at the beginning of a new one. You cannot rest content. You have been vigilant; it remains to be yet more vigilant. You must be faithful, must be diligent in an active virtue which demands its daily sacrifice of any counter interest, its daily response in energetic service.

Not every man who has fine aspirations and sets a goal some distance ahead, will attain to life success. These elements are necessary. It is true, but they must be accompanied by courage and dogged perseverance in the face of all obstacles if they are to approximate their real value in the life.

The man who has courage enough to set aside false hopes, to form no pleasures, or sterner to deny himself his love of luxury in order to achieve success is decidedly above the average man.

It should be remembered that the attainment of any goal—financial, social or any other character, must be by a step-by-step journey. "Heaven is not reached by a single bound." Also for one's opportunities and capabilities, it is possible to set too lofty an aim. Many men are failures because they are unable to reach a point set too far ahead of them, or because they are unwilling to make the necessary effort to accomplish what they have outlined as a life problem.

Other men with great aspirations give too little time and attention to the present position, with the mistaken idea that it is so far beneath them as to require no attention.

One must go ahead one step at a time—not attempt to jump a mile wide gorge when his best running broad jump record is less than twenty feet. You can set your goal as high as you please, but you must approach it steadily, surely, by definite, planned steps.

Imagination may permit one to make a jump of several rounds in the ladder of success, but it is seldom done in reality. As the poet tells us, "We build the ladder by which we rise from the lowly earth to the vaulted skies, and we mount to its summit round by round."

By going upward step by step, learning all there is to be known of each step in passing, only thus may one at last win the ability to stand as a monument of success.—Wampole's Monthly.

AN OPERATION ADVISED

Mr. Charles Llewellyn, Middlewood, N.S., writes:—"I got very sick and called in the doctor. The toll I had a floating kidney which he said was caused from a strain and that I should go to the hospital at once and have an operation, and that I could not be helped unless I did."

He would not even give me any medicine as he said it was of no use. I refused to have an operation and was told about so I got a box and soon felt a lot better and after using a few more boxes I was perfectly well again. I have great faith in "Doan's".

HOW TO GET IN TROUBLE—BILDARD'S TEN TRAFFIC RULES

Why should you be governed by traffic regulations? They are only for ordinary people and are quite good enough for them. But if we are to fulfill our destiny in this Age of Unrest, we must be original, live our own lives, and cultivate our own particular egos.

In the spirit of restlessness we contribute these new traffic rules. If, observing any or all of them, you will manage to acquire a wealth of excitement, quickly and easily, in almost any community.

1. You, as a driver, are entitled to drive where and when you choose. The whole road is yours—drive anywhere you please—other traffic simply must get out of your way. A sharp blast of your horn will warn others that you are not to be trifled with.

2. Put your wife in the back seat and encourage her to direct your driving, in every way possible. If you cannot hear her advice plainly—turn around and look at her frequently. She'll tell you when to sound your siren.

3. If traffic ahead is halted and you
